A Salute for Virginia.

The Democrats here have fired a national gainte and one extra guo, for Virginia, and that haw and order yet reign in the Union.—Detroit Free Press (Dem.) Here is a parallel for the Democrats of Beaver Dam, who "celebrated" the execution of Jonn Brown, on Friday last. HERE SHE GOES AND THERE SHE GOES. -The News of yesterday thus sareastically alludes to a recent appointment of a Deputy U. S. Marshal:

A. H. Edwards, of Sheboygen County, has been appointed Deputy U. S. Marshal. So far, Mr. Lewis has done the fair thing—re-appointed an old Deputy and appointed a new one, very regular. Mr. E. Is a new man. and appointed a new one, ve., remain new man.

Is the Actes out of favor at court, that it indulges in this slant at Marshal Lewis!

AMALGAMATION CASE .-- A case has been up before the policecourt of Detroit, in which a Mr. BERY -- a colored clergyman -- is charged with marrying a white and black person, contrary to law. The defense was, that the ceremony was performed late in the afternoon, when it was dark, and that he did not observe but that both parties were of colored blood. The marriage was admitted, but this further plea of ignorance was set up.

The Justice convicted him and sentenced him to pay a fine of $50 or go to jail for 90

Snow .-- They had six inches of snow at Buffalo, on Sunday last; two feet at Manistee, 80 miles north of Grand Haven, Michigan; and tolerable sleighing at St. Louis .--We have no snow, to speak of, here yet, but plenty of ice.

LA CROSSE ITEMS.—We clip from the La Crosse Daily Union, of Dec. 6th, the follow BAS CAMPAU.—Mr. J. Barnabas Campau, Crosse Daily Union, of Deo. 6th, the following items:

River Crossing.—Some fifty stage passengers and two tons of mail matter, were taken across the Mississippi last evening.—The river is entirely closed, and it is thought the ice will be strong enough for teams today.

Cold Snar.—The thermometer run 23 degrees below zero last Friday morning, at St. Paul.—22 at Winona and 10 at La Crosse. The clod extended far East.

Mor Violence.—M. B. Coon, at the Express office, received a despatch from Wabashaw, last evening, stating that a negro in that village had been taken by a mob, and hung to the branch of a tree.

As Campau.—Alt. J. Barnals Campau, whose mysterious disappearance has been taked of for a number of days, has not yet been heard from. We have not mentioned his disappearance before, for the reason that we hoped with his friends, that he would be heard from, and that his absence might have been caused by business. The last seen of him was on Tuesday evening about half past ten o'clock, when he was standing on the corner of Jefferson avenue and Randolph streets, near the Biddle House. The greatest anxiety has been felt by his friends, and every effort has been made to find him, but without success. Various rumers have been rife, of his having been seen in different places, but these, when sited, have proved without foundation. The hung to the branch of a tree.

CLOSED.—The River closed at this point on Saturday night. Travelers were crossing over from the depot to La Crescent yesterday. The ice is crowded down in a rough state.—A pretty lake opening of a dozen acres, is seen in front of our city. The river has been closed since Thursday, at Prairie du Chien. La Crosse Union, 6kt. RAILROADS AND FASSENGERS.—The suit of E.C. Smith against the Miliwankee and Mississippi Railroad Company was tried in the Circuit Court last Monday, and resulted in a disagreement of the jury. The case involved the right of a railroad company to eject from the cars a passenger, who for any reason, refused to pay the advanced price usually charged for tickets procured from the conductor instead of the ticket office. Mr. Smith, in this instance, endeavored to purchase his ticket at the office, but the office being shut, he was unable to do so. When asked for his fare, he tendered the conductor syllables diminish.—Wash. Constitution. being shut, he was unable to do so. When asked for his fare, he tendered the conductor the office price, which was declined, and the advance price demanded. Mr. Smith refused advance price demanded. Mr. Smith refused to pay this price for the reason that his failure to get a ticket at the office was no fault of his. He was thereupon ordered from the cars, which he left and performed the remainder of his journey on toot.

As we understand, the question raised on the trial, was whether the price at the ticket office was a reduction on the regular fare, or the price on the cars an advance on the regular rates. The jury, we learn, stood nine for a verdiet of damages in favor of Mr. Smith, and three for the railroad company, the minority regarding the car price as the regular fare and the office price a discount on it.—Janesville Gazette.

Fast Time on Lake Michigan.—The schooner E'l Tempo arrived taxturday evening from Buffalo. Capt Hughs revening from Buffalo. Capt Hughs reports having had a fine run the last 300 miles, having made it in 29 hours, and from Mackinan to this place in 16 hours. Et Tempo had a fine match with the lower lake schooner Rocket, running from Macinaw to this place with her, and being within half a mile of each other the entire distance, both vessels making from 14 to 16 miles per hour. Why great men should thus seeme such puny efforts I know not, but our dwarf is a consequential personage. He dresses the General, buzzes around him with a whisp; dusts him off; seizes his hat, and brushes up the General's few remaining gray hairs; wipes the nap of the hat, replaces the same, and the whole duty is conducted in silence. These attentions are repeated three or four times a day, and the General takes the same as a matter of course—and the little tiger, with his gray military cap and garrotte collar, struts around as important an individual as any one papers—and refused to interfere in the matter.

The Place of Greatest Safety.—
Franklin tells us that the place of greatest a setty during a thunder storm, is in bed, in a ceiling. In escaping from a burning house, if the rooms are filled with hot smoke and flames, it is stated, to crouch near the floor while moving off; as a current of cool air will generally be found there. In a railing a moderate that accordent on the Excursion Train, in y Wisconsin, demonstrates this; for of the twenty passengers killed, seven are reported by the papers as being at the time of the sacident, as follows: One in the post office car, three in the baggage car, and three on the platform; of the other fire the account a does not state where they were, but as two of them are stated to be in the cumploy of the Company, it is to be inferred that they were not in the regular passenger seats, and the other three may have been in their seats or may not, the papers do not state, but as not one lady was killed, and as they were a large proportion of the party, the presumption is, not one of the men killed was where the rules of the Company, and by the dictates of common prudence, he should have been.

P. M., via Gilroy, says that the Bulletin of this evening contains the following editorial remarks: "We learn from a reliable sources that Gen. Scott upon. his arrival in violentity of British Columbia, dispatched a letter to the authorities of Vancouver's Island, announcing his arrival and indicating his readiness to confer with the British authorities with a view to placeful solution of San Juan difficulty."

At the last accounts Col. Day liad not returned, therefore nothing is known of the spirit in which the General's communication was received. Should Douglass act in a spirit of frankness and moderation, there is reason to believe that arrangements will be made for the entire withdrawal of Harney's force, and a restoration to the same condition of affairs at San Juan as existed previous to its occupation.

It is not at all probable, however, that Scott will assent to even an implied apology for Harney's act, or arrange for joint occupation of the island. If he withdraws troops at all, it will be done distinctly as a concession to British sensibilities.

The Portland Advertiser denies that General Harney is upopular in Oregon. It says that no man stands higher, and asserts that had Harney been sent there instead of Gen. Wool, the Indian difficulties would have been terminated more speedily, and the war debt would have been figuidated.

Great Union Mass Meeting at Philadelphia Great Union Mass Meeting at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Doc. 7—9 P. M.

During the day, salutes have been fired by the friends of the Union. The city flags have been displayed from the public buildings and shipping, and the demonstrations closed this evening with a grand Union Mass Meeting of the citizens, irrespective of party, at Jayne's Hall, the object being to reaffirm allegiance to the Union and the Uoustitution and to condemn all fanaticism.

Jus. Ingersell presided. A series of resolutions were adopted, expressing an earnest lations.

Jas. Ingersoli presided. A series of resolutions were adopted, expressing an earnest sympathy with their fellow dizens of Virginia; disavowing any right or wish to interfere with the domestic institutions of sister States; reprolating in the strongest terms all attempts to excite servile insurrections, or to arouse those who are lawfully held in servitude, to violence and bloodshed; approving of the recent administration of justice in Virginia, and finally assuring their brethren of the South that there exists in all the people of Pennsylvania a determined spirit to assert and maintain the Constitution and the right of States under it, and asking in return, confidence and patriotic sympathy.

"NEW PROCESS OF PRESERVING MILK PERFECTLY PURE WITHOUT ANY CHEMICAL PROCESS."—By the Abbe Moigno: To preserve milk for an indefinite period is an important problem, which has been solved in France, in three different ways. M. de Villenauve was the first to preserve milk, soliditying it by the addition of certain solid ingredients, but it was no longer, preperly speaking, milk. M. de Signac preserved it by evaporating the milk till it became of the consistency of syrup, rendering it a solid unixture of milk and sugar; still it could not be called milk. M. Malen also preserved it by excluding the air, and exposing it to an atmosphere of steam, about 100 cwt., thus depriving it of all gasses which it contained, and then hermetically sealing the filled bottles in which it had been heated.—When about to leave for Aberdeen (where the British Association met this year) the Abbe opened a bottle which had toen closed by M. Mabeu on the 11th of February, 1854, and after the lapse of five and a half years it was found as fresh as it was the first day. M. de Pierre has greatly improved the discovery. The means which he employs to preserve the milk is still heat; but that applied in some peculiar way, by manual dexterity, first discovered by a Swiss shopherd.

All that is made public of the process is that the effect is to remove a sort of duistore, or animal ferment, which exists in milk in very small quantity, and which is the real cause of its speedy decomposition. When " New Process of Preserving Mick that the effect is to remove a sort of duistore, or animal ferment, which exists in milk in very small quantity, and which is the real cause of its speedy decomposition. When this species of ferment is removed, milk is preserved for an indefinite period of time in vessels not quite full; and consequently exposed to the action of rarified air,—a result which was not attained by the process of M. Maben, or rather that of M. Gay-Lussac, as they completely expelled those gasses which would otherwise have rendered it sour. The Abbe Moigno had such complete confidence in the success of M. de Pierre's process, that he had no hesitation in taking from Paris to Aberdeen a large vessel containing five gallons of milk, fearlessly entrusting it to railroads and shamboats, thus exposing it to all the incidents of the journey. This he distributed to the ladies and gentlemen of the British Association, and it was found as natural, as pure, and as rich, as when it was taken from the correct the correct and contained to the failer. ural, as pure, and as rish, as when it was taken from the cow on the fertile plains of Normandy.—Practical Machinist.

A RICH SCENE.—Last night, was brought to the Cherry street station house a drunken man. Drunken man informed police sergeant that he had taken the contents of a two onnee bottle of laudannia. Being a man whose bump of benevolence sticks out so that you could hang your hat on it, police sergeant rushed out for a physician. Police sergeant returned in precisely two minutes and a quanter, accompanied by a medical man whose breadth of beam was somewhat less than that of a Dutch canal boat. Medical man felt the pulse of drunken man, sucked the top of an ivory-headed cane, and mixed up about a tavory-headed cane, and mixed up about a tablespoonful of white powder.

A Repub lean State Administration. The beginning of the New Year will, for the first time in the history of the State, proce an the departments of the Government as the language of the resolutions appears to in the hands of the Republicans, and will as the language of the resolutions appears to on the names of the Rephonesus, and will be carefully considered and to have gone consequently devolve upon that party the entire responsibility for the administration forth, with the sanction of prominent Reof State affairs. Heretofore that responsibilihad a majority of the State officers, and the Legislature, with occasional exceptions, being pretty equally balanced. Henceforth, however, the Republicans will have undisputed control, as well of both branches of the Legislature, as of all the State Offices; and they will therefore be justly held accountable for the good or evil results of their management. We presume that the gentlemen who have been chosen to fill the various Legislative and Administrative offices, are prepared to meet that responsibility and hope to render to of the Harper's Ferry affair, and the executheir constituents a good account of their tion of John Brown. The following is an plaints have been made of the excessive lelaws of the State, year and after, has become a serious evil, and needs an effectual corrective. Let us hope that the Legislature, which is to meet in January, will profit by the errors of its predecessors, in this particular, and confine their labors in the direction spoken of, to amending only serious and patent of the union, consenting to the bond by which the States are bound together to the which which the states are bound together, supporting the constitution and the laws, and no new-laws but such as the public needs imperatively demand. Against the evil of "special legislation," Governor RANDALL has earnestly protested, in his two successive of the which the window of the method was lightly their numbed—may believe that views on this subject in his first communica-

"Agitation" at Washington. The first two days of the present Session have been occupied, both by the Senate and House of Representatives, in an angry discussion about Slavery. The subject was introduced, in both branches, by prominent Democrats, who seemed eager for the fray .-Harper's Ferry and HELPER's "Impending Crisis of the South," were the main themes of discussion; and while in the Senate it was sought to hold the Republican Party responsible for the former, in the House it was at tempted to rule out, as a candidate for Speaker, any Republican who believed in the sentiments of the latter. How long this unprofitable discussion is to last, to the hindrance of the legitimate business of Congress and the engendering of political and sectional strife, rests mainly with the Democratio to take. It is the only one consistent with our principles. The Republican party is the ellows—the Sheriff received Brown's hat such clared in the Republican patty is to contain the Elevitiments of the latter. The Republican Party and John Brown. Fur the Sentinel.

I have waited in vain for some Republican organ to disavow the loose and dangerous doctrines, partially avowed in some of the solutions adopted at meetings held in this city on the evening of the execution of John Brown. I do not suppose that most of the persons who participated in these meetings, meant any thing more than to express their admiration of the noble and grand bearing of BROWN in contrast with the ridiculous fuss of the authorities of Virginia. But inasmuch it important that the position of the Republiand for thist purpose, I ask you to publish the subjoined article, taken from the State Journal of Madison, which, as I believe represents the views of nine-tenths of the Republicans of the Union. J. H. TWEEDY. Milwaukee, Dec. 6th, 1859.

A Sound AND SENSIBLE VIEW .--- We are

rejoiced to see the Chicago Tribune, the most widely circulated Republican paper in the North-West taking a sound and tenable view stewardship. It may not, however, be out of place to suggest a few matters for their earnest consideration, before they shall enter upon the discharge of their several duties.

Great and often-times well founded complaints have been made of the recessing to plaints have been made of the excessive le-gustation with which our State has been af-flicted. The practice of tinkering with the convictions, his suffering, the disgraceful in-cidents of his trial, the poltrooury of those who will lead him forth to death, have excited throughout all the North a strong feeling of sympathy in his behalf; but nowhere, with of sympathy in his bensh; but now artertained in our knowledge, is the opinion entertained that he should not be held answerable for the legal consequences of his act. As long as the legal consequences of his act. As long as messages, and he will no doubt repeat his od by which he is punished—may believe that views on this subject in his first communication. confounded her enemies by an act of clemention to the new Legislature. We trust that they will be duly heeded. We see no reason why the business of the Session cannot be closed up in six weeks and at moderate expense to the People. Our friends should see to it, that no superfluous officers are employed, no unnecessary expenditures incurred, no extravagant appropriations made. We are devocating disunion in its most objectionable form. For that we are not prepared. We would be glad to avert the axe which hangs over the old man's, head, if percuasion and entreaty would do it; but we see no way piddged to the Poople for a brief, husiness, and entreaty would do it; but we see in way like, economical session, and for an honest, prudent and efficient administration of the State Government. Let this pledge be faithfully redeemed.

"Agitation" at Washington.

"Agitation" at Washington. praising the inherent through mistaken no praising the innerest through missagen no-bleness of the man, of pitying the fanaticism which led him into his present strait, of re-gretting that a character which might have been so illustrious in the history of his coun-try, must be loaded with the consequences of his errors. To our nore radical readers these views will be unpalatable; but they are such as Republicans must entertain."

There is a wild excitement through the coun- | tached to the ring above, and the old man An Infamous Proposition.—A handbill try just now, caused by the recent events in Stod with his face to the South, straight as an arrow and firm as a pillar. I looked at will be said; sentiments will be uttered that Journal of Commerce says "it is probable to when the temporary excitement has passited when the temporary excitement has passiful had been within twenty or thirty feet. His hands were naked, and I observed them ever presented to the world, than the apectaele of one weak, fanatical old man, with a handful of deluded followers, illing a great and populous commonwealth with paroxysms of alarm; with a panic so great that it was du-med necessary to surround his gallows with arm-d men, and to drown his last words in the tumult of martial music, as the Hindoos were wont to drown the shricks of the victims of the sattee. It does not seem possible that any thinking and patriotic man will ever again consent to the extension of a system which brings such weaknuss and cowardice upon a commonwealth as inevitably attends the institution of slavery. But while we excerate the munner of John Brown's trial and execution, we have no doubt but that were George Washington or Thomas Jefferson alive, and sither of them the Governor of Virginia, they would have felt bound, with more self-possession and less melo-drawith more self-possession and less melo-dra-matic display than has characterized Gover-nor Wise, to have inflicted upon John Brown the penalty of the violated law. John Brown

If we may rely upon the statement of the New York Herald's Washington correspondent, the whole South has been driven, or has voluntarily approached to the verge of that precipice to which fire-eating orators and editors have been described by the control of the tors have hitherto rather unsuccessfully at-tempted to lead it. The more conservative and astute politicians have occasionally been very ferocious in their threats, but have prudently are cordially supported by leading Southern men, both in and out of Congress: —

"First—That in view of the Harper's Ferry Abolition Invasion, and its extensive and alarming ramifications; and in view of the sympathies of the abolitionized Republican party for Old Brown, and of the threats of that party to reduce the South to submis-sion, a special law shall be demanded of Congress for the future protection and security of the Southern States against all abolition conspirators, emissaries and conspirators.

Second—That in default of some such Conpany next year at an average of £28 per mile per week, the yearly interest payable by the Company on sonds, preference shares, requiring only £22 per mile per week.

A Word to Foreign-Born Voters. Now, while there is no excitement of a pending election before the people when men have time to listen coolly and judge impartially, we wish to address a few words to the facility bear noted of the listen who leave foreign-born voters of this State who have, many of them, contrary to their own immany of them, contrary to their own impulses, been kept from uniting with the Republican party by the false charge of Know-Nothingism brought against it by the sham

zer. is look at the record of the two parties in this State, and see how they stand.— Both parties have repudiated Know Nothing-ism at all their State Conventions; both have nvited the co-operation of the foreign-be both have by their representatives in the Legislature, voted to instruct our members of Congress to oppose any change in the natur-alization laws,calculated to abridge the rights an equal footing.

Now let us see how the parties have carried their principles into practice. In 1957, the Republicans placed one foreign-born voter on their ticket, Carl Schurz; and the Democrats placed two upon theres. Carl Habich and Edward McGarry. The election resulted in the choice of three Republican and four Democratic State officers. None o But Schurz, the Republican, received a larger vote than either of the foreign born nominess on the Democratic ticket He had the largest vote of any Republiban candidate not elected, while Habich and McGarry stood lowest on the Democratic ticket. We do not think that Know-Nothingism had any-thing to do with this result upon either side, out, if it had, then the vote showed a greatr tendency to Know-Nothingiam the Democrats than among the Republi

At the last election there were two foreignborn candidates on the Republican ticket— Van Steenwyk and Heg—and three upon the Democratic ticket, Silverman, Crawford and Fleck. All the Republican nomines are elected, while the majorities of Van Steen-wyk and Fleck are much larger than those of some of the native born candidates upon the Republican ticket, while Silverman, the Ger-man, on the Democratic ticket, runs nearly 7 000 votes behind his American-born asso ciates, and Crawford, the Irishman, about 1,000 votes behind his American-born associates. Now we do not assert or believe that this result is caused by Know Nothingian—we do not believe that the sentinent of hastility to the foreign-born enters into our elections to any noticeable extent; but if it does, tions to any noticeable extent; but it it does, that feeling manifestly predominates in the ranks of the Democratic party.

One more suggestion. If The Republican party is hostile to the foreign-born, it has, after the 1st of Jauary next, complete control of every department of the State Government. The State officers are all Republican, and in both brenches of the Feedslating. ment. The State officers are all Republican, and in both branches of the Legislature there is a decided Republican majority.—
There is no obstacle now in the way—provided the party entertains that hostility to the foreign-born with which it is so often charged by the Sham Democracy—of carrying its proscriptive feelings into practice.—Let our foreign-born population mark whether any such use is made of power in the hands of the Republican party. Let them observe whether their rights are not as amplyprotected, and as zealously cared for as in the Ages whether their rights are not as amplyprotected, and as zealously cared for as in the Ages whether their rights are not as amplyprotected, and as zealously cared for as in the Ages whether their rights are not as amplyprotected, and as zealously cared for as in the Ages whether their rights are not as amplyprotected, and as zealously cared for as in the Ages whether their rights are not as amplyprotected, and as zealously cared for as in the Ages whether their rights are not as amplyprotected, and as zealously cared for as in the Ages whether their rights are not as amplyprotected, and as zealously cared for as in the Ages whether their rights are not as amplyprotected, and as zealously cared for as in the Ages whether their rights are not as amplyprotected, and as zealously cared for as in the Ages whether their rights are not as amplyprotected, and as zealously cared for as the continuation of the care of the ca amplyprotected, and as zealously cared for as in the days when the so-called Democracy held complete and absolute sway in the State -Madison Journal.

THE EXECUTION OF JOHN BROWN.-The correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial, who was present at the execution of Joun Brown, gives the following graphic description of the scene:

It was precisely five minutes past eleven o'clock (Baltimore time) when Brown ascended the gallows. The Sheriff proceeded at once to tusiness. The Sheriff and Jailor and one or two others, shook hands with the such as Republicans must entertain."

This is the correct position for Republicans to take. It is the only one consistent with awkward, as his arms were tied in the usual tible used in coarse slippers, I presume.

The Sheriff and others left the scaffold, and Brown was upon it alone. He knew now, of course, that the time had, come for death, but his hands retained their composed before he was launched upon the unknown voyage. His last words were in reply to a question of the Sheriff. The delay was longer necessary repairs, without any funds in hand for the purpose.

The ladies feel that the comparatively small amount needed for this purpose ought to be expected from the rich, as the amount heretofore raised has mostly been furnished in small amounts, by persons of moderate means. It would seem as if it ought to be the comparative means. It would seem as if it ought to be the comparative means are in the policy of the violated law. John Brown the policy in the policy of the violated law. John Brown asigned them. The Sheriff asked him if he asigned them. The Sheriff asked than intended, owing to the slowness of the military in getting into the precise place asigned them. The Sheriff asked him if he them surgeous to the military were upon the scaffold—felt his pulse, pressed their hands upon his losom to see if his heart beat, and held their ears to his chest, to listen for a held their ears to his chest, to listen for a symptom of a flutter at the seat of life, with great assiduity. Persons disposed to the facetious, might say in this connection, that it took an army to hang John Brown and twenty surgeons to tell whether he was dead. At any rate he hung forty minutes and was inspected by twenty surgeons before he was considered incapable of further-wasconsidered seriest the Commonwealth.

> Douglas in Louisiana —Twelve months ago Douglas had some little strength in Lou-isiana. After his triumph in Illinois he was isiana. After his triumph in Illinois he was received with great colat in New Orleans.— But for the last three mon he the star of Douglasism has been casting a flickering and metancholy glimmer upon his disciples in that region of the political vineyard. The little germ of Douglasism that was planted in Louisiana twelve months ago has been nipped in the bud. The sepulohrai blaze was snuffed out ere it lighted up a constable's builwick. The Courier, the old Democratic organ of New Orleans, assures the honest and faithful Democracy of every State and section faithful Democracy of every State and section of the federal Union that there is not a single parish or eveninct within the State limits in which Mr. Douglas would havethr shadow of a chance for obtaining a majority of De-mocratic suffrages; and any pretension to the contrary, on the part of the pitiful handful of pseudo-Democratic partisans which he has in the State, is mere empty vaporing, or a discreditable attempt at deception, as to our local politics and preferences.—Memphis(dem)

JOHN BROWN'S letters since his captur JOHN BROWN'S letters since his capture and imprisonment, are remarkable for style, not less than for the sentiments expressed. The following was received by his son, Jesse Brown, of Copley, last week, and he kindly permits us to publish it. Few readers, we think, will peruse it without admiration for the courage and fortifude exhibited in every linears heaven like that we read of in the line—a bravery like that we read of in the history of martyrs, and which, in this doubting age, had become mythical, if not incredible.—Akren Beacon.

the thing I have wished you all to do for me—to be cheerful, and perfectly resigned to the holy will of a wise and good God. I bless his most holy name that I am, as I trust, in some good measure, able to do the same. I am even "joyful in my tribulations," seen since my confinement and same. I am even "joyitti in my tribula-tions," even since my confinement, and I humbly trust that "I know in whom I have trusted." A calm peace (perhaps) like that which your own dear mother felt in these of heart dear mother felt in view of her last charge, seems to fill my mind by day and by night. Of this neither the powers of "earth or hell" can deprive me. Do not, dear children, any of you grieve for a single moment on my account. As I trust my life has not been entirely thrown away, so I also humbly trust that my death shall not be in yain.

God can make it to be of a thousand times more value to His own cause, than all the misorable service (at best) that I have rendered it during my life. When I was first taken I was too feeble to write much, so I wrote what I could to North Elba, requesting Ruth and Anne to send you copies of all my letters to them. I hope they have done so, and that you, Ellen, will do the same with what I may send to you, as it is still quite a labor for me to write all that I need to. I want your brothers to know what I write, if you know where to reach them. I wrote Jeremiah, a few days since, to supply a trifling assistance, $15, to such of you as might be most destitute. I got his letter, but do not know as he got mine. I hope to get another letter from him soon. I also asked him to show you my letter, I know of nothing you can any of you now do for me, uning you can any of you now do for me, un-

THE AURORA OF SEPT. 2D IN THE SOUTH-ERN HEMISPHERE.—A few days ago we pub-lished an account, of this Aurora as seen from the ship Southern Cross, of Boston, off Cape Hour. It will be recollected that here a bright red Aurora appeared in the morning of September 2d, in the Southern half of the sky only; that during the day, the telegraphic wires were so much affected by electricity, as to render batteries unnec-essary for the transmission of messages, and that in the evening, the auroral dist ploy was again magnificent, but only in the north.

By the following letter to the London Times, it appears that this auroral storm of Times, it appears that this current storm of the morning of the 2d, extended to Australia, and was finely observed there in the evening of that day, or at the same absolute time of that day, or at the same absolute time as here. It is, therefore, nearly certain that this grand electrical covuision was visible on the 2d of September throughout the Farth.

several hours little was to be seen but a deep rich pink light over the southern part of the sky, but by degrees it extended, and about 9 sky, but by degrees it extended, and about 9 o'clock a luge piller of fire appeared in the west, where it remained until midnight.

After the moon went down the brilliancy of the aurora increased, and from about half past 11 till past 12, a beautiful pale, soft, greenish, bine light, like the dawn of morning, extended itself above the southern horizon for about 100 deg. to 110 deg. and about 18 deg. or 20 deg. in height; from this streamers or radii of 'red, white and blue' light shot upwards to beyond the zenith, fully half the sky being covered with this splendid illumination, the light from which equallel that of the full moon in England.

These radii converged towards a point about 15 deg. north of the zenith, but did not themselves extend more than half that not themselves extend more than half that distance beyond the zenith. This was its last appearance and a splendid finate it was. Fifty of the largest comets blazing away at once could hardly have presented a finer sight. The powerful electric excitement in the atmosphere had an extraordinary effect on the telegraph wires, agitating the instru-ments violently in some places, and quite in-terfering with the transmission of messages.

Cincinnati Pork Thade.—The Guiette, of the 5th, says:

The receipts of hogs on Saturday, instead of increasing, as some parties anticipated, felt of to 6,000 head, against 7,000 on Friday, and 8,000 the day previous—and against 7,000 on Friday, and 8,000 the day previous—attributed strength to the market; and under a pretty strong excitement, prices farther advanced, with sales, of 2,000 head, at $0,200.6 the besides which, a lot of extra head, at $0,200.6 the besides which, a lot of extra head, at $0,200.6 the besides which, a lot of extra head, at $0,200.6 the besides here were but few hogs upon the market, and for lots averaging 200 fbs, and puward., $0,50 was demanded, while some people talks and saking pretty deep hold in some quarters but there does not be any better foundation for the reported deficiency than pr which last year. Then an average price of $0.50 made a long crop into frachert one, and that foo with an inadequate supply of connectivity as the corn crop is better than it was in 1895. But the receipts of as are 1994, and it has all at once been discovered that there are not hogs enough in the country to make a hill crop. This enough to make a life to a shalls result, escentially a price of $0.00 made a long enough in the country to make a hill crop. This enough to make a shift out and washeding, there is money to be made as the ball moves, and every body will go out at the right time, of cauries, if receipts should be larger in January than they are now, with inducations of a continuance of the pucking season up to the first of March. Those who are sharp enough to smell a short crop after of, with sales of, with which they expended with the right time, if it can be done—of course they will. But, as remarked on a former occasion this excitement is working adultably for the farmers. Instead of $10 per head for hogs, with which they expended such as $1000.000 to the furners of Ohlo, Kentucky, Ludhana and Hilmis. Mess pork advanced $200 to the furners of Ohlo, Kentucky, Indiana and Filinais. Mess

MARINE INTELLIGENCE.

WEDNESHAY EVENING, Dec. 7th. THE WEATHER continues excessively cold. Last night and to-day ice formed on the river from Walker's Point Dridge to the Straight Cut at least three inches thick. Last Winter scarcely any ice formed on this part of the river at all. An Eastern wind now, however, would soon demolish it. We noticed yesterday the schooner Wm. Case loaded with coal, and two lumber vessels lea-bound at the entrance of the harbor. THE STEAMSHIP MILWAUREE, - Capt. Woolverton, Inspector for the Board of Lake Underwriters, who has been to look after the Militaukee, informs the Detroit Tribune that she has sustained no damage of consequence, and that he regards the prospect of geiting er off successfully, as soon as the wind gets into the right quarter, as quite flattering. IN EUROPEAN RIVERS .- The G. D. Dousman, er, under charge of Capt. J. W. Smith, which is engaged in the American Lakes and Atlantic Ocean direct trade was at Reni,on the River Danube, when la
